

Florida Hospital Breast Cancer Care Fund

The Florida Hospital Breast Cancer Care Fund (BCCF) was established to address the availability of diagnostic testing and treatment of breast cancer at the Florida Hospital Cancer Institute. There is undoubtedly a large population of uninsured and underserved patients in Central Florida and throughout the Nation. Without this fund, thousands of patients risk late stage detection, crippling medical bills and worse- death. This fund has grown to include other areas that enhance the clinical experience at Florida Hospital and the many unique needs of breast cancer survivors in our community. It is allowing Florida Hospital's world class physicians to offer the latest innovative treatment options through clinical trials and research conducted at the Florida Hospital Cancer Institute.

The funding needs addressed by the BCCF can be categorized in the following areas: Early Detection, High Risk & Genetic Counseling, Cancer Research, Community Education & Awareness, and Survivorship. The Jennie Yoon Buchanan, MD, Breast Cancer Fund provides free mammograms for underinsured and underserved patients in our community. Innovative Cancer Research is currently underway at Florida Hospital in partnership with the Sanford Burnham Research Institute and the Florida Hospital Cancer Institute's Survivorship Program is currently being developed to support the complex needs of breast cancer survivors. Florida Hospital is committed to spreading awareness for early detection of breast cancer and empowering community health education initiatives like the Pink Army.
